

Criteria	Poor	Satisfactory	Good	Excellent
INKS If completed effectively, Inks allow your comic to be reproduced on mass without the need for colors. Inks cover both letters and pencils on your final comic page.	Inks (letters and art) are completed quickly, without varying line weights rendering the comic completely unreadable.	Inks (letters and art) have varying line weights but are completed too quickly making the comic slightly unreadable.	Inks (letters and art) have varying line weights but are completed with attention, but they could use some revisions before considered completely ready for print.	Inks (letters and art) have varying line weights but are completed with attention and are complete and ready for print.

A couple important notes on the comic page worksheet: The thing that is important with inking is to take your time. Practice your lines before committing them to paper. Also, there is no need to erase you pencils as you will be able to get rid of them in photoshop/GIMP later.

Follow these directions:

1. Read the tutorials
1. Fill out your worksheets that you have already penciled and inked according to the directions in the tutorial.
2. Scan the worksheets and make them into a .pdf (Here are some instructions on how to do that if you don't know how.)
3. Submit the finished pages, in one .pdf (merge them), here for peer review.
4. Review your classmates using the criteria below

You will be graded, and grade your peers on the following elements:

- Inked letters are clear - YES/NO
- Inked art is easy to read - YES/NO
- Inked art has varying line weights - YES/NO
- All inks are completed with attention - YES/NO
- All inks (art and letters) are complete and ready for print - YES/NO
- Please provide kind, specific, and helpful feedback for the creator. Remember that this is an early attempt to create and that your feedback is pivotal in the process of this learner refining their work. If you graded the learner a "no" on any of the answers above, use this space to indicate why and if their are any suggestions you have for improvement for their next draft.
