

Student Mix

Bodhi Academy will include a healthy mix of races, genders, belief systems, and socioeconomic statuses. While physical and intellectual diversity is an important component in any education, this would be particularly critical for our proposed school. Bodhi Academy's specific mission identifies promoting world citizenship as one of its core value and objectives. Successful world citizenship requires a healthy curiosity of and respect for other cultures, ideas, and values ("Bodhi" is an allusion to that tenet, as it was the tree under which Siddhartha Gautama attained Nirvana). A heterogeneous student and faculty, across all demographics, is critical to creating a healthy atmosphere for this component of the curriculum.

The actual model of schools is an “industrial” model, Every students are qual and must have the same habilities
and the same “pattern” of knowledge.
